

DigiEduHack Challenge Emerging Technologies for Education

Artificial intelligence in education

How can the emergence of artificial intelligence transform the future of education?

Artificial intelligence is a technology that will firmly enter all areas of our lives. How exactly will it be used in education? Will this application be limited only to chat bots and virtual assistants? How can artificial intelligence enhance the learning experience?

ITMO DigiEduHack

Our hackathon is a peer-to-peer interaction space for everyone who has breakthrough ideas on how to improve modern education. At the hackathon, you will receive not only invaluable experience working in an interesting team, but also the opportunity to join the global international community of people who are passionate about the digitalization of education. Join ITMO DigiEduHack and co-create the future of education at ITMO University!
